Eden has contributed over £1.9 billion into the Cornish economy and is one of the UK's biggest tourist attractions. SPACE

JOIN BRITISH ASTRONAUT MAJOR TIM PEAKE FOR AN ENTHRALLING ONLINE EVENT

Major Tim Peake is a truly inspirational person, being the European Space Agency's (ESA) first British astronaut to travel to the International Space Station. A former military test pilot, his work on the International Space Station and active engagement with the public back on Earth has made him a household name and role model to millions. Following a distinguished military career and rising to the rank of major, and a period as a test pilot in the private sector, Tim applied to the ESA's astronaut programme. Beating over 9,000 other applicants, he undertook a gruelling training programme that covered everything from living in Sardinian caves to spending 12 days underwater.

Travelling to the ISS on board a Soyuz vessel, Tim and two fellow astronauts led the Principia mission, a six-month scientific research mission. Tim undertook over 250 experiments, a spacewalk to repair the ISS power supply, helped to dock two spacecraft, and piloted a simulated Mars exploration. Much of his mission focused on not just the scientific work of the ISS but in communicating it to the public. In regular contact via video and social media with Earth, Tim spoke to over 1.5 million schoolchildren across Europe from 400km above the planet. He even ran the London Marathon on a treadmill and delivered a New Year's message on the BBC.

In your own private online event, Tim looks at everything from the future of spaceflight to the lessons he's learnt about leadership and teamwork. He discusses control, risk, decision-making and performing in high-pressured environments. He considers the concept of 'followership', where individual skills and goals take second place to supporting the group leader. He touches on the demands this places on two-way communication, problem solving, and the importance of understanding everyone's role and strengths in order to be an asset to the team and to the leader. Tim also shares his thoughts on the future of medicine, science and space research; what it feels like to look down on earth and see its extraordinary beauty and fragility; how technology can both empower and threaten; and various astronaut anecdotes, from space docking dilemmas to what happens when you think a UFO is heading towards you.

We have all wondered what life would be like in space and this fascinating and insightful online event will give you a much better understanding and include answers to all the common questions such as the feeling of travelling at 8km per second to sleeping and eating in weightlessness.

TRY YOUR HAND AT SPORTS COMMENTARY FROM A VARIETY OF SPORTS!

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be describing some thrilling sporting action to the viewers? Well now you can! You and your guests can be the commentators sitting alongside one of two chosen legendary commentators and receiving their feedback about how you describe the action. We will produce some clips of some sporting action and after hearing your chosen commentators in action, you will have a go at this.

We will split your guests into two groups, within private sections of your online event, so each guest gets to have a go with each commentator in smaller groups. Both commentators will also interview each other, as we hear some great stories from their careers and each commentator will name their 'Commentary Winner of the Day' at the end of the session.

The winner of the day will receive a special golden microphone trophy, which will be engraved with their details on. Guests will also have an opportunity to ask questions to our sports commentators.
